To continue the tradition of promoting women in the arts, A.I.R. Gallery is proud to present the work of seventeen young artists:

Each artist in this exhibition was chosen by a member of the gallery, allowing for a range of styles, media, and expressions as diverse as the membership's, but from the perspectives of a new generation of women.

This program was made possible by a grant from the Manhattan Community Arts Fund with funds from the Department of Cultural Affairs and by a generous donation from the Gifford Foundation.

A.I.R., the first women's cooperative in the United States, was founded in 1972 to advance the status of women artists by exhibiting diverse works of the highest quality and by providing leadership and a sense of community to women artists.
