

1997 marks 25 years of women artists' visibility in the art world.

A.I.R., the first cooperative gallery for women artists in the country, will begin a series of events to celebrate its

25TH ANNIVERSARY

To commemorate a women's history shared by all of us, we invite you to participate in GENERATIONS, a Grand Salon Show of small works by women artists.

Place: A.I.R. Gallery

Date: October 21 - November 15, 1997

Reception: Saturday, October 25, 1997, 4 - 8 pm

In addition, each artist may bring a letter size (8.5" x 11") vertical laser print of the work exhibited to be made into a document that will be donated to the Archives of American Art.

The size limitation is up to 144 square inches or one cubic foot. Works in all media that can be wall-hung will be accepted and must be delivered to the gallery ready for hanging.
